What is Intentional Parenting?

Intentional parenting is not simply about following a set of rules or adhering to a particular parenting style. Rather, it is about having a clear understanding of God's purpose for your child's life and then making every decision about their upbringing in light of that purpose.

Intentional parents are:

- Prayerful: They believe that God is the ultimate authority in their children's lives and they seek His guidance in all their parenting decisions.
- Proactive: They don't wait for problems to arise before they address them. They take a proactive approach to parenting, teaching their children about God's ways and training them in righteousness.
- Purposeful: They know that their children are not accidents but are created by God for a specific purpose. They help their children to discover their unique gifts and talents and to use them to serve God and others.
- Patient: They understand that raising children is a marathon, not a sprint. They are patient with their children and are willing to invest the time and effort necessary to see them grow up to be healthy, happy, and God-fearing adults.

The Benefits of Intentional Parenting

Intentional parenting has many benefits for both parents and children. For parents, intentional parenting:

- Provides a sense of direction and purpose for their parenting.
- Helps them to build a stronger relationship with their children.
- Reduces stress and anxiety by giving them a framework for making parenting decisions.

- Strengthens their marriage by providing a common goal to work towards.

For children, intentional parenting:

- Provides a stable and loving home environment.
- Helps them to develop a strong moral compass.
- Fosters a passion for Jesus Christ.
- Empowers them to reach their full potential.

Raising Revivalists

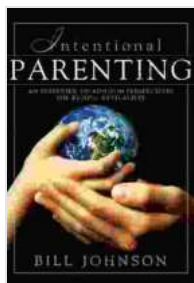

In addition to the general benefits of intentional parenting, there are also specific benefits for parents who want to raise children who are passionate about Jesus Christ and who have a heart for revival.

Intentional parenting helps to create a spiritual foundation in children's lives that can help them to withstand the challenges of the world. It teaches them the importance of prayer, Bible study, and worship. It also helps them to develop a personal relationship with Jesus Christ.

When children are raised in an intentional parenting environment, they are more likely to:

- Have a strong faith in God.
- Be passionate about Jesus Christ.
- Have a heart for revival.
- Be equipped to make a difference in the world.

Raising children is one of the most challenging and rewarding experiences in life. However, it is important to remember that we are not alone in this journey. God has given us the tools we need to raise our children to be healthy, happy, and God-fearing adults. Intentional parenting is one of those tools. By following God's principles and seeking His guidance, we can raise children who will change the world for Christ.
